

BOXED office

BOXEDoffice is everything you need in one place to enable convenient home-working - plug, play, put away.

To help overcome some of the issues associated with home-working, Burland have developed BOXEDoffice. Being able to differentiate between work and home is very important when it comes to your wellbeing, and BOXEDoffice goes a long way to helping compartmentalise the two environments. It can be set-up or packed away in seconds, returning your living space to what it's meant to be used for, then your BOXEDoffice can be stored out of site and, more importantly, out of mind.
